

Vox M Voice Over IP Systems

Innovation

Vox M is a new company in the field of Voice Over IP. We offer you a complete migration of your telephone system to the very modern world of this communication technology. This allows you to have a direct business relationship with the distributors of telephone lines, avoiding you the intermediates and granting you savings on average of 70% of your monthly expenses.

Advantages

Voice Over IP enables large scale deployment thanks to the stable and global network of the Internet. The unique platform of Vox M can, depending on your needs, manage the telephone systems of your multiple sites and branches without geographic constraints. It also adapts to the mobility of its users.

A complete, affordable and personalized telephone system, configured according to your needs. It includes:

- Communications billed according to your usage - Additional savings during slower times of the year;
- North American and International communications charged at very competitive prices;
- Telephone extension system and individual mailbox;
- Customizable phone menus;
- Queue system;
- Recording of conversations;
- Compatible with the majority of existing equipments.

The union of two technologies.
